

Kids Explore!

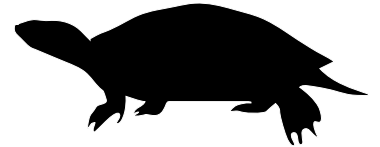

Natural Neighbor Jokes to Share

Q: What do Western Pond Turtles use to text each other?

A: Shell phones

Q: What do you call a school of baby Salmon?

A: A pre-school

Q: What do you call a bald Great Blue Heron?

A: A hair-off

Q: Why was the Chanterelle Mushroom so popular?

A: He was a really fun-gi

Q: What did the Beaver say to the tree?

A: It's been nice gnawing you!

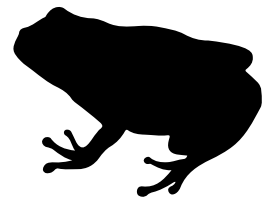

Q: Which tree has the most hair?

A: A Douglas Fir Tree

Q: What do you call a really interesting story about a Pacific Tree Frog?

A: Ribbiting

Have you met any of the natural neighbors mentioned in these jokes? See if you can find out more about them from books or the internet!

Do you have some favorite nature jokes? Email them to us at info@nearbynature.org and we'll share them in a future Nature Jokes Explore page!

Thanks to volunteer Alan Pittman for his witty contributions to this collection.

Nearby Nature, PO Box 3678, Eugene, OR 97403, nearbynature.org